Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to Boston, Massachusetts, for the American Political Science Association's 114th Annual Meeting and Exhibition!

The 2018 theme is Democracy and its Discontents. Contemporary democracies face multiple challenges: voters are increasingly polarized in many countries, international alliances are creaking under new strains, global investment and immigration flows challenge existing identities and loyalties, and a new information environment has led to both uncertainty about truth and facts, plausibly increasing partisanship and distrust. We need to understand the nature and origins of these challenges—both as scholars and as citizens.

Several theme panels that focus on democracy and its discontents can be found on page 21. We also have three breaking news panels, which include "Facebook and Democracy" on Thursday at 12:00 p.m., "The Humanitarian Crisis of Family Separation and Migrant Detention under Trump's Zero Tolerance Policy" on Thursday at 4 p.m., and "International Alliances in the Age of Anxiety" on Friday at 4:00 p.m. Additionally, Danielle Allen from Harvard University will be speaking in the plenary session, "In Defense of a Democratic Republic: Scholar-Citizens from Federalist to the Present," on Saturday at 4:00 p.m. All of these events will take place in Hynes 302.

We also encourage you to attend the Presidential Address by APSA President Kathleen Thelen at 6:15 p.m. on Thursday in Hynes 302. The Opening Reception will immediately follow at 7:30 p.m. in Hynes 304.

The Annual Meeting this year is hosting two exciting events: The Diversity and Inclusion Hackathon and the Teaching and Learning Conference at APSA. The Diversity and Inclusion Hackathon will take place on Friday at 12:00 p.m. in Hynes 311, with a reception to follow at 5:00 p.m. The goal is to build on past and present efforts by APSA and its component organizations to promote diversity and inclusion by creating a collaborative, diverse, and inclusive space for annual meeting participants to come together. At the Hackathon, teams will develop strategies that address key challenges facing the profession, build partnerships, and plans to move forward.

The inaugural Teaching and Learning Conference (TLC) at the annual meeting will take place on Saturday in Hynes 309 – 313 from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with a reception to follow at 7:00 p.m. in Hynes 312. The full day event will focus on the theme "Political Science Education in Contentious Times." TLC at APSA seeks to promote the scholarship of teaching and learning, equip faculty with new techniques and resources for teaching, and enhance the role of teaching in the discipline of political science. A full program of the day's events can be viewed on page 33.

Finally, be sure to stop by the APSA Exhibit Hall in the Hynes Hall A to meet with exhibitors, visit the APSA Lounge, and view iPosters.

We are very grateful to the division chairs for their hard work in putting together an excellent program. We hope you enjoy the meeting!

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

APSA has received notice from several sources that graduate students and faculty have experienced sexual harassment at various conference venues. APSA consequently reminds everyone:

The APSA Annual Meeting and related regional political science meetings are convened for the purposes of professional development and scholarly and educational interchange in the spirit of free inquiry and free expression. Harassment of colleagues, students, or other conference participants undermines the principle of equity at the heart of these professional fora and is inconsistent with the principles of free inquiry and free expression. Consequently, harassment is considered by APSA to be a serious form of professional misconduct.

The following Anti-Harassment Policy outlines expectations for all those who attend or participate in APSA meetings. It reminds APSA meeting participants that all professional academic ethics and norms apply as standards of behavior and interaction at these meetings.

1. Purpose

APSA is committed to providing a safe and welcoming conference environment for all participants, regardless of actual or perceived gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, ability, socioeconomic status, age, or religion.

"Participant" in this policy refers to anyone present at APSA meetings, including staff, contractors, vendors, exhibitors, venue staff, APSA members, and all other attendees.

2. Expected Behavior

All participants at APSA meetings are expected to abide by this Anti-Harassment Policy in all meeting venues including ancillary events and official and unofficial social gatherings.

- Abide by the norms of professional respect that are necessary to promote the conditions for free academic interchange.
- If you witness potential harm to a conference participant, be proactive in helping to mitigate or avoid that harm.
- Alert conference or security personnel if you see a situation in which someone might be in imminent physical danger.

3. Unacceptable Behavior

Unacceptable behaviors include:

- persistent and unwelcome solicitation of emotional or physical intimacy
- persistent and unwelcome solicitation of emotional or physical intimacy accompanied by real or implied threat of professional harm
- intimidating, harassing, abusive, derogatory or demeaning speech or actions by any participant in an APSA meeting and/or at any related event
- prejudicial actions or comments related to actual or perceived gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, ability, socioeconomic status, age, or religion that coerce others, foment broad hostility, or otherwise undermine professional equity or the principles of free academic exchange
- deliberate intimidation, stalking or following
- harassing photography or recording
- sustained disruption of talks or other events
- physical assault (including unwelcome touch or groping)
- real or implied threat of physical harm

The APSA Ombuds is available for consultation with any annual meeting attendees who believes that they have experienced any form of harassment, or have concerns about violations of the sexual harassment provisions of the APSA anti-harassment policy while onsite at the 2018 annual meeting. For information on contacting the APSA Ombuds, please visit www.apsanet.org/ombuds.

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 12,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to deepen our understanding of politics, democracy, and citizenship throughout the world.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing four distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, PS: Political Science & Politics, and Journal of Political Science Education.

This session format provides a discussion forum for scholars to participate in the scholarship of teaching and learning, share pedagogical techniques, and discuss trends in political science education. Each topic cluster is staffed with a scholar (or scholars) in the field that has demonstrated success in the use of practical instructional methods to share with attendees to take with them to their home institutions. Attendees gather to ask questions and brainstorm core opportunities and issues in the field.

Teaching and Engaging Students in Large Sections

Division 10: Political Science Education Thursday, August 30, 4:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. Hynes, 207

Featured Paper Panels: 30-Minute Paper Sessions

This format allows a scholar to present his or her work for a longer period of time and to have a dedicated discussant who isn't overburdened by having to read multiple papers. One session chair would guide the time, but each paper would have its own discussant. The sessions might follow the "Brookings format," in which the discussant presents and then comments on the paper; the author would then have a chance to respond.

Congressional Fellowship Program

he APSA Congressional Fellowship Program is a highly selective, nonpartisan program devoted to expanding knowledge and awareness of Congress. Since 1953, it has brought select scholars to Capitol Hill to experience Congress through fellowship placements on congressional staffs. Fellows begin their fellowship year with a comprehensive four-week orientation with congressional experts and policy leaders. Fellows then serve full-time assignments as legislative aides in the House of Representatives or Senate.

The fellowship year also features:

- Winter and spring seminar series on Congress;
- Visit to the district or state of a Member of Congress;
- Optional programs in Annapolis, Maryland, and Ottawa, Canada

QUALIFICATIONS:

Applications are welcome from political scientists who have completed a PhD in the last 15 years or will have defended a dissertation in political science by November of the fellowship year. The program is open to scholars in all subfields within political science who can show a scholarly interest in Congress and policymaking.

FELLOWSHIP YEAR:

Orientation begins in November 2019. Office placements run until August 15, 2020. Candidates may apply for two optional programs—a research fellowship and a course on Congress and foreign policy—that run from September to October 2019.

STIPEND:

$52,500 for the 9.5-month fellowship period, plus a travel allowance.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

The application period opens in September 2018. Applications must be submitted online and include:

- a detailed CV;
- 500-word personal statement;
- the names and contact information for three references
- a writing sample

APSA Diversity and Inclusion Programs

Achieving Diversity and Inclusion in Political Science

The American Political Science Association has several major programs aimed at enhancing diversity within the discipline and identifying and aiding students and faculty from under-represented backgrounds in the political science field. These programs include:

APSA Ralph Bunche Summer Institute (RBSI) (Undergraduate Juniors)

The RBSI Program is an annual, intensive five-week program held at Duke University. It is designed to introduce to the world of doctoral study in political science those undergraduate students from underrepresented racial and ethnic groups or those interested in broadening participation in political science and pursuing scholarship on issues affecting underrepresented groups or issues of tribal sovereignty and governance. Application deadline: January of each year. For more information, visit www.apsanet.org/rbsi.

APSA Minority Fellows Program (MFP) (Undergraduate Seniors or MA and PhD students) (Fall Cycle for seniors and MA Students, Spring Cycle for PhD students) MFP is a fellowship competition for individuals from underrepresented backgrounds applying to or in the early stages of doctoral programs in political science, designed to increase the number of individuals from under-represented backgrounds with PhD's in political science. Application deadline: October and March of each year. For more information, visit www.apsanet.org/mfp.

Minority Student Recruitment Program (MSRP) (Undergraduates and Departmental members) The MSRP was created to identify undergraduate students from under-represented backgrounds who are interested in, or show potential for, graduate study and, ultimately, to help further diversify the political science profession. For more information, visit www.apsanet.org/msrp.

APSA Mentoring Program

The Mentoring Program connects undergraduate, graduate students, and junior faculty to experienced and senior members of the profession for professional development mentoring. APSA membership is required for mentors. APSA staff makes mentor matches twice a year: once at the beginning of the fall semester and once at the beginning of the spring semester. To request a mentor or be a mentor, visit www.apsanet.org/mentor.

APSA Status Committees

APSA Status Committees develop and promote agendas and activities concerning the professional development and current status of under-represented communities within the political science discipline. For a listing of all APSA status committees, visit www.apsanet.org/status-committees.

For more information on all Diversity and Inclusion Programs and to read the 2018 APSA Diversity and Inclusion Report, visit us online at www.apsanet.org/diversityprograms. Please contact Kimberly Mealy, PhD, Senior Director of Diversity and Inclusion Programs with any questions: kmealy@apsanet.org.

To contribute to an APSA Fund, such as the Ralph Bunche Endowment Fund or the Hanes Walton Jr. Fund, visit us at www.apsanet.org/donate.

Find a Mentor or Become a Mentor

The APSA Mentoring Program is an opportunity for all political scientists to network and share experience, advice and insights about career planning, scholarship, and a variety of professional issues such as:

- Selecting a dissertation committee
- Publishing and research
- Non-academic careers
- Life as junior faculty member
- Balancing family and work

APSA seeks mentors that provide professional advice to undergraduates, graduate students, and junior faculty in the profession, specifically in non-academic careers and international relations, and to mentor Ralph Bunche Scholars (RBSI) and/or APSA Minority Fellows (MFP).

Matching Process

APSA accepts mentor requests for short-term (one semester) and long-term (one academic year) mentoring. However, matched mentors and mentees are encouraged to continue the relationship beyond the official APSA mentoring period if they find it mutually beneficial.

The APSA staff makes mentor matches twice a year: once at the beginning of the fall semester (for short term and long term matches) and once at the beginning of the spring semester (for short term matches). Matches are made first-come, first-served based on suitability of the match profile and mentor availability.

Apply today! Submit an online application to become or request a mentor at www.apsanet.org/mentor.

Congratulations to the 2018 APSA Ralph Bunche Summer Institute Scholars

Named in honor of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize winner, former APSA President, and the first African American to receive a PhD in political science, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the RBSI encourages students to pursue academic careers in political science. During the program, RBSI Scholars take graduate level political science and methods courses and engage in original research, culminating in a research paper and poster presentation at the APSA Annual Meeting. To date, there are over 500 RBSI Alumni, many of whom are on faculty at colleges and universities across the country. Now in its 32nd year, the RBSI program is held at Duke University, under the direction of Dr. Paula D. McClain.

To learn more about the 2018 APSA RBSI Scholars, visit us online at www.apsanet.org/rbsi.

Join the APSA Minority Student Recruitment Program (MSRP)

Become a 2018-2019 APSA MSRP Recruiting Department

The APSA Minority Student Recruitment Program (MSRP) advances the benefits of diversity within the political science profession. The program connects undergraduate students from under-represented backgrounds interested in graduate study with MSRP recruiting departments.

MSRP Departmental Benefits

- Access to the MSRP Recruiting Departments listserv
- Access to the MSRP database to recruit undergraduates to your PhD program
- A link to your PhD program on the APSA website and sent to MSRP students
- Participation in the MSRP Best Practices meeting

Enroll Students in the MSRP Database

Faculty are also invited to submit student names and contact information to the Minority Student Recruitment database. Or students may enroll themselves or ask their undergraduate advisor to sponsor them.

Call for Leadership Proposals

Workshop Leaders for the 2019 APSA MENA Workshops | Deadline: Sunday, October 28, 2018

The American Political Science Association (APSA) is pleased to announce a call for proposals from political scientists interested in serving as co-leaders for the 6th annual MENA Workshop program. The 2019 program will be conducted as a series of two one-week sessions (held in the spring and fall) linked by a 3-4 month break for writing, research, and manuscript revision. The annual program brings together 20 early career scholars from the Arab MENA region of lectures, research presentations and professional development hosted on a regional university institute.

Contact us at menaworkshops@apsanet.org if you have questions or would like more information about the workshops. For a full description of the program and application process, please visit the MENA website at web. apsanet.org/mena.

APSA Meetings Ombuds

The APSA Ombuds will be available during office hours at the 2018 APSA Annual Meeting, August 29 — September 2, to speak with any meeting attendee on a variety of topics including, but not limited to, consultation with any meeting attendees who believe that they have experienced any form of harassment, or have concerns about violations of the sexual harassment provisions of the APSA anti-harassment policy while onsite meeting. To learn more about the APSA Ombuds, please visit www.apsanet.org/ombuds, or contact apsaombuds@ gmail.com with any questions or concerns.

The role of the APSA Meetings Ombuds is to:

- confidentially hear and discuss your concerns with you
- provide you with valuable guidance and resources for understanding what constitutes sexual harassment and other forms of harassment
- provide information on, and help explain, options for reporting sexual harassment to APSA,
- outline other avenues and information for pursuing such a complaint
- offer support and guidance even if you elect to pursue no complaint procedures or reporting whatsoever

TOP 5 THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE APSA CENTENNIAL CENTER

The Centennial Center was created in 2003 to celebrate APSA's 100th anniversary. Our mission is to advance the discipline, and we do that through a broad range of programs supporting research, teaching, and public engagement. To support these aims, in 2018 the Centennial Center will facilitate Special Projects Fund awards totaling $250,000. Funded programs will be led by APSA members, and aimed at advancing the political science discipline.

We're your home away from home!

We're on a mission!

The center is a resource for all APSA members. When you're in DC, stop in for a brown bag talk, schedule a working group meeting in the Aaron Wildavsky Conference Room, conduct research in the Seymour Martin Lipset Library space, or conduct research interviews in our office space. Those interested in extended visits can apply for residence as a visiting scholar. The Centennial Center space features wi-fi, video-conferencing equipment, smartboards, and recording equipment.

We fund research!

With 13 different research funds and 1 dissertation award, we support researchers working in all areas of political science. In the 2016-2017 grant cycle, we awarded over $75,000 in funding. Our next round of research grant applications are due December 15, 2018.

We offer fellowships! The Centennial Center's Pracademic Fellowship Program places mid-career faculty members in federal government agencies in the D.C. area, enabling them to bring an enhanced understanding of real-world management challenge sin their research and instructional environment.

We support teaching!

The Centennial Center hosts multi-day, teaching symposia in our DC headquarters that provide a unique opportunity for faculty with similar teaching interests to develop new teaching resources, share best practices, and network. The Center will host Three workshops this year, on political theory, research methods for undergraduates, and comparative politic. Next workshop scheduled for October.

Visit our website to learn more, and to apply for grants, visiting scholarships fellowships, or teaching symposia at www.apsanet.org/centennial.

"Tom Cronin's smart, engaging expansive tour of political novels is especially timely...Cronin shows how storytellers long have served to remind us of what America is and what we want it to be." Susan Page, USA Today

Praise for IMAGINING A GREAT REPUBLIC

GORE VIDAL Washington, D.C.

"This magisterial work is indispensable for understanding who we are as well as who we might yet become. The United States has always been more an idea than a place, and in Imagining A Great Republic, Tom Cronin unpacks the many paradoxes, contrasts and conflicts that comprise what it means to be 'American'."

Michael A. Genovese, President of Global Policy Institute, Loyola Marymount University

"I really enjoyed this energetic great trip down our history's Memory Lane. Tom Cronin writes with panache and great insight about heroes of mine like Steinbeck, Roth, Morrison, Heller, Lee, Abbey, and others. With a lineup like this, you pretty much can't go wrong and Cronin doesn't. The book treats novels all over the political map, but the map is fascinating.

Novelist John Nichols

"Tom Cronin's latest book is a revelation regarding the role of literature in imagining and shaping our republic. Cronin writes with sympathy and insight and an encyclopedic knowledge of American political novels."

Vincent Carroll, The Denver Post

"Deserves to be widely read and given serious consideration from scholars of American Politics." H.N. Hirsch, Oberlin College

Recommended for all levels of university students. CHOICE

Sol Price School of Public Policy

Shaping the world since 1929

Ranked 2nd among 282 schools of public affairs nationwide, the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy has defined excellence and innovation in public affairs education for nearly 90 years. The school is committed to teaching and research that advance society through stronger governance, effective social policy, and sustainable urban development. Our graduates shape the world as leaders in government, nonprofit agencies, and the private sector.

"We envision a world where engaged citizens and government work together to improve their communities, where leaders adopt social innovations to look beyond conventional remedies to solve public problems, where diverse populations are consulted in decisions that affect them, and where nations work from a foundation of equity and opportunity to resolve global issues."

– Jack H. Knott, Dean, USC Sol Price School of Public Policy

INTERDISCIPLINARY. INNOVATIVE. IMPACTFUL.

The Price School integrates the strategic and intellectual problem-solving resources of six primary areas of expertise:

Public Administration

Public Policy

- Health Policy and Administration
- Urban Planning
- Nonprofit Leadership and Management Real Estate Development

The Price School's world-class faculty and 13 research centers conduct groundbreaking studies that are cited by elected and appointed officials at all levels. Price faculty advise members of Congress and federal agencies, head commissions, and provide expert information to the national news media on a daily basis.

USC PRICE CONGRATULATES JEFFERY A. JENKINS

Populism

Managing Editor: Lane Crothers, Illinois State University

ISSN: 2588-8064 E-ISSN: 2588-8072 brill.com/popu

Populism is a peer-reviewed, international journal devoted to promoting transdisciplinary examination of populism in both historical and contemporary contexts. The journal's fundamental premise is that, while there is currently no coherent frame of analysis, most experts do agree that populism is a complex and variegated phenomenon that should be examined from different theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches. Moreover, there is general agreement about its growing importance in the social sciences and about the rather obvious etymological fact that it is predicated upon the positing of an antagonistic relationship between two collective entities: 'the people' and 'the elites'.

However, here is where scholarly consensus ends and disagreement comes to the fore. Some researchers prefer to approach populism as an ideology; others consider it as a mode of expression, a discursive style, a species of rhetoric, a political style, a type of political logic, or an exclusionary form of identity politics. Still others eschew such ideational and discursive approaches in favor of more policycentered and organizational perspectives on populism as a political strategy, a strategy of political organization, or a political project of mobilization that also includes social movements. Put in an even more general framework, populism has also been referred to as a dimension of political culture. Although these different approaches are not necessarily mutually exclusive, they can be usefully associated with three distinct research paradigms identified by Gidron and Bonikowski (2013): (1) populism as political ideology; (2) populism as political style; and (3) populism as political strategy.

Populist currents have characterized many of the most pivotal events and developments in human history—often in times when established institutions lose their normative influence over individual and collective behavior. Aiming to serve as the premier forum for transdisciplinary research, the journal seeks to foster reflection on populism as one powerful way in which societies respond to rapid change in the social order. With that in mind, we also encourage contributions that discuss the impact of globalization on the transformation of the conventional ideological landscape in general and on populism in particular.

Tufts University's Tisch College of Civic Life, and its Institute for Democracy & Higher Education (IDHE) are proud to support the APSA's Teaching and Learning Conference.

At a time of great upheaval in civic life, Tisch College's mission to study and promote youth engagement in democracy is more critical than ever. Initiatives like IDHE's National Study of Learning, Voting & Engagement (NSLVE), the only nationwide study of college student voting, help us advance college student political learning, discourse, equity, and participation in order to transform the ways we approach young people and politics.

BOOTH 527: Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg, Sweden

The Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg (Sweden) is a global hub for research on democracy, good governance and local development. It hosts the world leading research institutes Varieties of Democracy (V-Dem) Institute, the Quality of Government (QoG) Institute, and GLD-Gothenburg (Program for Governance and Local Development).

The V-Dem Institute

Varieties of Democracy (V-Dem) produces the largest global dataset on democracy with some 19 million data for 201 countries from 1789 to 2017. Involving over 3,000 scholars and other country experts, V-Dem measures hundreds of different attributes of democracy. V-Dem enables new ways to study the nature, causes, and consequences of democracy embracing its multiple meanings. The V-Dem Institute is an independent research institute and the Headquarters of the V-Dem project based at the Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg, Sweden. The Institute was founded in 2014.

The QoG Institute

The OoG Institute was founded in 2004 by Professor Bo Rothstein and Professor Sören Holmberg. It is an independent research institute within the Department of Political Science at the University of Gothenburg. We are 30 researchers who conduct and promote research on the causes, consequences and nature of Good Governance and the Quality of Government (QoG) - that is, trustworthy, reliable, impartial, uncorrupted and competent government institutions. While Quality of Government is our common intellectual focal point, we apply a variety of theoretical and methodological perspectives.

Governance and Local Development (GLD)

The Program on Governance and Local Development (GLD) is a research program based at the University of Gothenburg. Originally founded in 2013 at Yale University by program director Professor Ellen Lust, GLD focuses on issues of governance and local development in an effort to promote human welfare globally. With over twelve full-time staff dedicated to scientifically rigorous research, the program aims to develop insights into the role of state and non-state actors, to consider the relationship between local level factors and governance, and to provide policy-relevant findings.

BUSINESS MEETINGS:

Many groups hold meetings and receptions at the APSA Annual Meeting, and most are open to all members. Business meetings are general member meetings that are open to all Association members unless the title clearly indicates that the meeting is for a specific group (e.g. editorial board).

APSA Organized Section: All attendees regardless of membership in a section are invited to attend section business meetings and to learn more about the work of sections.

Related Group: Independent professional groups with persistent organizational structure and minimum membership can organize a business meeting.

APSA Committee Meetings: Generally working meetings of committees are considered closed to attendees. Attendees should first consult with a committee chair about the possibility of attending.

RECEPTIONS:

All receptions are open to all APSA members unless the title clearly indicates otherwise (e.g. editorial board reception).
